DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-3 and 5-22 are pending as amended 12/11/08, of which claims 8-11 and 20-22 are withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-3,5-7 and 12-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The newly added limitation in claim 1, "consisting essentially a mesoporous ceramic membrane" does not appear to have support in the specification or original claims. Applicant's specification does not rule out other materials in the membrane.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

1. Claims 1-3,5,6 and 12-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by, or in the alternative, under 35 USC 103(a) as being obvious over, Van 'T Veen et al (US 5,089,299).

Art Unit: 1797

Van 'T Veen teaches a hydrophobic ultrafiltration and hyperfiltration membranes with ceramic support and hydrophobic coating as claimed – see abstract, column 3, lines 18-34, and column 6, lines 27-34. The reference does not use the terminology “nanofiltration” but hyperfiltration range encompasses nanofiltration, as is clear from the pore sizes described, as well as it being known in the art. The hydrophobic coating is silanes – see column 4, lines 18-36. The substrate is ceramic – column 3, lines 5-12. The various types of siloxanes recited are also taught by the reference. Regarding ‘consisting essentially ceramic membrane’, the reference teaches the materials of the membrane layer and the support as ceramic (see column 2, line 64 – column 3, line 12), and thus meets this limitation. It is noted that applicant’s mesoporous membranes also appear to have been made by having coating ceramic material on ceramic support – see pages 1-4 of the specification.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-7 and 12-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van 'T Veen in combination with Hying et al (US 6,383,386).

Hying teaches ceramic hydrophobic membranes (abstract) with pore size ranging from 1 nm to 500 nm, the hydrophobing being conducted by known hydrophobing methods and includes silanes containing fluorine – see column 4, line 51 – column 5, line 8.

It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of these references to arrive at applicant's invention because the combination would have predictable results. See KSR Int'l. v. Teleflex Inc., 127 S. Ct. 1727, 1732, 82 USPQ2d 1385, 1390 (2007). "it is commonsense that familiar items have obvious uses beyond their primary purposes, and a person of ordinary skill often will be able to fit the teachings of multiple patents together like pieces of a puzzle". "The combination of familiar elements according to known methods is likely to be obvious when it does no more than yield predictable results."

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/11/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Arguments regarding the Van 'T Veen reference is addressed in the rejection. Argument traversing the combination of Van 'T Veen and Hying is not persuasive: elimination of the hydrophobic coating in Van 'T Veen is not contemplated in the rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1797

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
